The Opportunity

At our Calgary headquarters, Yogen Früz® employs dedicated team members who support you from the start. Collectively we procure locations and place robots throughout Canada. Our teams provide all the tools necessary to promote thriving robots, and expand our network and business model nationwide.

With technology-based operations taking the lead in every sector of business, adaptability has never been more critical. Just as Red Box revolutionized the movie rental industry, automated, on-demand food delivery is changing retail forever. But – unlike Red Box – the automated concept in froyo® has no competition. There is no equivalent alternative such as Netflix, in which streaming can easily replace “on-demand.” For a tangible/edible product, automation is the ultimate high tech service!

Early installations have proven to be a hit among consumers who are attracted to the novelty as well as the convenience, quickly becoming a full-fledged sensation wherever it's installed. People stop and buy a yogurt just as much for the fun-zone delivery of their customized snack, as they do for the variety of flavors and toppings. Kids and adults alike cannot help but stop when they walk past our Froyo® Robot!”
